Dear Wes Hosford Family,

Students have been enjoying the Mindfulness Club on Wednesdays, and the 5s and 6s have been enjoying intramurals on Tuesdays and some Thursdays. Starting tomorrow grade 6 students will have the option to work on addition and subtraction of large numbers with Mrs. Freiheit at lunch recess on Mondays and on Thursdays at lunch recess they will have the option to work on multiplication and division with Mrs. Erickson. They will hear details in the morning announcements.

We survived our cold snap! This week is looking much warmer!

Take Breaks

If you're helping your child with math homework, it's important to prioritize healthy brain breaks to keep their mind sharp and their motivation high.

At regular intervals, take a quick 5-minute break together to have a dance party, grab a snack or whatever else your heart desires! Make sure to plan for breaks ahead of time to keep your child from getting overwhelmed.

Find Fun Math Games

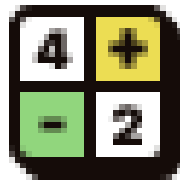

During playtime or screen time, choose a fun math game that will help your child build new skills in a relaxed environment, whether independently or as a family.

Try these:

- Work on the daily Mathler problem together
- Solve math puzzles like sudoku or tangrams
- Host a Prodigy Math tournament for your child and their friends
